While participating in the Resident Firefighter Program, the incumbent may utilize WBFR as his/her mailing address. Every effort will be made to deliver mail to the Resident in a timely manner, however, it cannot be guaranteed.

COMPENSATION

The Resident will earn a monthly stipend of $650, paid in accordance with WBFR payroll practices. Residents will not receive additional compensation for responding to calls or attending training and other WBFR related events on his/her assigned or traded shift. Off duty Residents will earn points for calls responded to outside of scheduled shift, outside training, and public events, in accordance with set WBFR practices. Points will be assigned a value and the off duty earned compensation will be paid on a monthly basis.

TRAINING

WBFR will make available the necessary training for the Resident to be able to perform essential job functions. This will include training to the levels of IFSAC Firefighter 1, NWCG Wildland Firefighter 2, and EMT. Additional training may be sought out by the Resident, provided it does not interfere with duty or other responsibilities. Resident may request reimbursement for additional training opportunities but WBFR reserves the right to refuse reimbursement. Resident is required to attend all training and drills while on duty. Resident is required to attend 75% of drills while off duty, provided drill attendance does not cause attendance conflict with college course schedules. Excused absences will not count towards the 75% requirement. Failure to meet this requirement may result in termination of Resident status. Exceptions may be granted by the training officer and/or Coordinator.

EDUCATION

While participating in the Resident Firefighter Program, it is expected that the Resident will be actively engaged in individual growth, through the pursuit of formal education or professional development. WBFR is committed to financially supporting the incumbent through certain educational tracts, through reimbursement of tuition and other associated costs up to $8,000/year. These tracts include but are not limited to degrees/certificates in Fire Science, Paramedicine, and the like. Degrees in other fields may be considered but will require petition to and approval by the Fire Chief. To be eligible for reimbursement, Resident shall submit prior to beginning any course, an application for reimbursement form to either the Coordinator or training officer. Tuition reimbursement will be paid out based on per credit charges established by Columbia Basin College or the rate at which the attended institution charges, whichever is less.

In order to be reimbursed, Resident must maintain GPA of ≥ 2.0 or "Pass", where applicable, in each course completed. Documentation of final grades and proof of payment must be submitted to Coordinator no more than 30 days after the final day of the educational term. A Resident deemed to be on academic probation by his/her respective institution shall be required to meet with the Coordinator or Fire Chief to discuss the situation and plans for resolving the issue. A Resident subject to academic dismissal may also be subject to dismissal from the Volunteer Resident Firefighter program.

WBFR recognizes that not everyone may have a desire to seek formal, higher education and is committed to supporting those participants, as well. Approved courses related to professional development will also be reimbursed upon successful completion with a passing grade.
